

KNOWLEDGE, EMOTION, AND IDENTITY

The study of undergraduate foundations of American Education, FDN 3800, is organized around three central themes: 1. Curriculum, 2. Knowledge, Emotion, and Identity, and 3. Power and Justice.⁽¹⁾

Foundations of American Education FDN 3800

The Knowledge, Emotion, and Identity Guiding Questions

How is the individual defined?

How should one live?

What characterizes a caring relationship?

How do we know how to treat each other?

What does it mean to claim that teachers should care for students?

Is caring the same in the classroom as it is elsewhere in one's life?

How does one release the imagination?

How should we think about the kind of education and the kinds of relationships that occur in schools and in society?

How should we understand the emotional lives of children, adolescents, and adults both in schools and in their lives outside of schools?

How should we understand the relationship between reason and emotion, the "head and the heart"?

What are the relationships among "love," "desire," "imagination," and teaching and learning? What were the high and low points of your own schooling?

⁽¹⁾ Please see the document entitled "Rationale" for a more detailed explanation regarding the ways in which Foundations of American Education, FDN 3800, addresses the learning needs of pre-service teachers, and aligns with NCATE and DPI standards.

⁽²⁾ Please see the FDN 3800 "Disposition" document.

NCATE and NC DPI standards that are enacted in FDN 3800⁽¹⁾

The following NCATE standards are continuously addressed in the "Knowledge, Emotion, and Identity" segment of Foundations of American Education, FDN 3800. (1)

Standard 1: Candidate Knowledge, Skills, and Dispositions (2)

Candidates preparing to work in schools as teachers or other professional school personnel know and demonstrate the content, pedagogical, and professional knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary to help all students learn. Assessments indicate that candidates meet professional, state, and institutional standards.

Standard 4: Diversity

The unit designs, implements, and evaluates curriculum and experiences for candidates to acquire and apply the knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary to help all students learn. These experiences include working with diverse higher education and school faculty, diverse candidates, and diverse students in P-12 schools.

NC DPI Standards

KNOWLEDGE, EMOTION, AND IDENTITY, CONT.

The study of undergraduate foundations of American Education, FDN 3800, is organized around three central themes: 1. Curriculum, 2. Knowledge, Emotion, and Identity, and 3. Power and Justice.⁽¹⁾

Foundations of American Education FDN 3800

The Knowledge, Emotion, and Identity Guiding Questions

How is the individual defined?

How should one live?

What characterizes a caring relationship?

How do we know how to treat each other?

What does it mean to claim that teachers should care for students?

Is caring the same in the classroom as it is elsewhere in one's life?

How does one release the imagination?

How should we think about the kind of education and the kinds of relationships that occur in schools and in society?

How should we understand the emotional lives of children, adolescents, and adults both in schools and in their lives outside of schools?

How should we understand the relationship between reason and emotion, the "head and the heart"?

What are the relationships among "love," "desire," "imagination," and teaching and learning? What were the high and low points of your own schooling?

(1) Please see the document entitled "Rationale" for a more detailed explanation regarding the ways in which Foundations of American Education, FDN 3800, addresses the learning needs of pre-service teachers, and aligns with NCATE and DPI standards.

(2) Please see the FDN 3800 "Disposition" document.

The following NC Department of Public Instruction standards are continuously addressed in the "Knowledge, Emotion, and Identity" segment of FDN 3800. (1)

CORE STANDARDS FOR ALL TEACHERS (2)

C.1 Teachers know the content they teach

C.2 Teachers know how to teach students

C.3 Teachers are successful in teaching a diverse population of students

C.4 Teachers are leaders

C.5 Teachers are reflective about their practice

C.6 Teachers respect and care about students

DIVERSITY STANDARDS (2)

D.1 Teachers understand the central concepts, tools of inquiry, and structures of the disciplines. They teach and can create environments and learning experiences that make these aspects of subject matter accessible, meaningful, and culturally relevant for diverse learners.

D.2 Teachers understand how students' cognitive, physical, socio-cultural, linguistic, emotional, and moral development influences learning and addresses these factors when making instructional decisions.

D.3 Teachers work collaboratively to develop linkages with parents/caretakers, school, colleagues, community members and agencies that enhance the educational experiences and well being of diverse learners.

D.4 Teachers acknowledge and understand that diversity exists in society and utilize this diversity to strengthen the classroom environment to meet the needs of individual learners.

D.5 Teachers of diverse students demonstrate leadership by contributing to the growth and development of their colleagues, their school and the advancement of educational equity.

D.6 Teachers of diverse students are reflective practitioners who are committed to educational equity.

TECHNOLOGY STANDARDS

T.6 Teachers understand the social, ethical, legal, and human issues surrounding the use of technology in PK-12 schools and apply those principles in practice.